1. I appreciate your taking the time to do this interview. Can you share your background with us and tell us what led you to where you are now?

I graduated with a diploma in electronic and computer engineering. This caused me to think with a technical mindset and so I became a Mind Reality Scientist when I discovered my true passion in Universal Knowledge later on.

I discovered my life’s calling when I pondered about the different subjects that were of significant interest to me and ones I had passion for. This led to my vision of creating Mind Reality which is the integration of all subjects in the universe to do with discovering how the universe works, and how to become a true master in creating reality and making your wishes come true.

Stepping into my true calling has opened the way to more and more opportunities coming in as I am blessed with increasing success and inspiring many people around the world to become more empowered and more successful in living their lives with greater fulfillment!

My name Enoch means “Teacher” and it is also another sign of what the Universe has placed me here to do. I am grateful for the gift that I have, and it is my destiny to share this gift of genius/knowledge to others. Everyone who has come into contact with my gift has greatly benefited from it because what they get is truly inspired and is in divine harmony. Everything I have to share is at my website.

2. Was there a tipping point for you, a moment where you decided to completely change what you were doing and how you were living? What helped you get through this transitioning phase?

What caused me to undergo a paradigm shift was the realization that in order to truly live the life I was meant to live and find real fulfillment, I had to focus singlemindedly on what I was placed on earth to do and be in full alignment with it in terms of my thoughts and actions.

I decided that I had to stop pursuing all other false goals that were merely distractions as part of the matrix, and focused on the true goal of freedom and power to be who I really am. That path takes knowledge and knowledge or wisdom is the key to everything. Awareness is the first step, the second step is change. Attaining awareness changes everything.

I share many of the insights that lead to increased awareness, in my writings, because that is part of what I am here to do. I am here to learn and do magic and teach others how to do it, so that they may live a magical life!

3. How do you define success?

True success is defined by freedom. You are truly a success when you are able to live life on your own terms, free from the illusion of requiring to have many “things” in this world and have to be stuck in doing certain things for the purpose of attaining those “things”. But instead you are free to simply be who you want to be, and do what you really want to do.

This is what I have, and therefore what I share is authentic and will lead others to their true paths of fulfillment.

4. Can you name some certain principles of success that help you in your life?

The most important principle of success is the attainment of knowledge/wisdom. Wisdom is the principal thing.

There are better ways of looking at things. There are better ways of thinking and doing things. The better way of looking at things is to always reframe things in a way that is empowering to you. For every success that you see, there is always someone who has achieved more of it in a shorter time and in an easier way. Always choose the better way of things. If you want the best, go straight for the highest level, the core and the essence. When you do that, your mind, beingness and actions will be the best.

There are different levels of wisdom. A lower level of wisdom is as foolishness compared to a higher level of wisdom. A wise man is as a foolish man when compared with an even wiser man. Seek to learn from the WISEST! Mind Reality is not about what’s good, or even great, but what is BEST!

5. What is your advice to people who want to live their dreams but fear that they will fail?

My advice is that fear of failure is like the darkness, and the dream you have is the light. When you step into your true path in the direction of your dream, the darkness will clear away, because it is an illusion.

You only know it when you start walking in the direction of where you are inspired to go, and the illusion disappears.

Sun Tzu said "Opportunities multiply when taken."

Start walking in the direction of your dreams, and you will find that when you take the first step, the next step shows up, what seems to have been blocking you starts to fall away as another way or solution appears. The whole universe conspires to help you when you move in the direction of your true calling. But you must overcome the limitation in your mind first and step in your destined path.

6. So many people give up their dreams at the first sign of difficulty. Did you experience any failures and what kept you going?

You can't encounter real failure when you do what you are inspired to do. You may encounter unmet expectations or mistakes along the way, but if you are moving in the direction you are meant to go, you are already on the right path and in the life you are supposed to be living.

"Where you are is just fine"

The time you enjoy wasting is not wasted time, and especially so if it brought you experience that helped you to learn something.

You either put in more energy at other times, or put in less energy at the right time which is the time when you are inspired to act. Both ways add to the energy store that will be released in cycles to manifest the intended effect. Let all your actions both mental and physical be inspired actions. When you use inspired intention, the energy flow is there and is more effortless and more creative.

All the energy that you put in is cumulative and is not wasted if it is focused on things that you actually enjoy and is something you have a vision for.

7. It's obvious that you have achieved a lot in your life, but do you still have some dreams? And is there a difference for you between dreams and goals?

We will always have many dreams and it is dreams that lead us to the expansion of ourselves.

A dream is something you would like to experience.

A goal is an intention. It is something you actually concentrate your attention and energy to achieve.

It is important to choose which dreams you wish to turn into goals first.

The secret of making a dream come true is to turn it into a goal/intention where you can concentrate all your power both mental and physical in attaining it.

To be really fulfilled, you must select which is your most important dream that you want to make happen first. It is also most certainly your life calling or what you are here on earth to do. When you make that dream come true and are living your true purpose, you already have the dream life.

8. It seems that a lot more people are unhappier nowadays. What would be your opinion on why aren't more people happier in their lives? And what would you advise?

People are unhappy with their lives because of a lot more illusions that the matrix has pulled over their eyes for them to pursue. In the past, things were much simpler and therefore less reasons for people to be unhappy about.

But in our modern society where much more communication happens and much more expectations are created, there are much more false goals around to misdirect people's attention away from the true things that they really need to pursue.

It is alright not to have those things!

What does it profit a man if he gains the whole world but loses his soul?

Your soul is life force energy, mana.

If you wear yourself out in the process of more and more worldly attainment, you will never be very happy in life, and what a ridiculous way to live your life.

Learn to care less, relax more and enjoy more.

Be free to content yourself with doing the work you really enjoy doing, and not do a whole lot more than you really wish to do or enjoy doing just to attain a lot more "material stuff".

Live your life in a much more carefree way, and you will be able to experience a lot more joy when you experience things that truly bring you joy, instead of being emotionally hindered by your thoughts and worry on things that constantly concern you because you got to handle "this" and handle "that".

9. What do you feel makes the difference between individuals who remain in mediocrity and those who transcend their circumstances?

It takes the Will and Intelligence to get to the place you want to be. Every man is free to rise as high as he wishes to go, to the extent by which he is willing to think. Genius is often unmanifest because of lack of will and perseverance.

You must gain intelligence which is knowledge/awareness which will make you more able to attain the goals you wish to achieve in life. And you must use your will to choose those things that will bring you to where you want to be.

To go higher, you must GO Higher. How to get there? You must go after knowledge that will sharpen your mind and make you a better person in becoming a vibrational match for all that you desire. That knowledge is knowledge of the mind and reality. When you know the mind, and you know reality, you know everything. Not everything in all detail, but at least the core of everything which is most important of all. Wisdom takes you higher. Exalt wisdom and she will exalt you. Wisdom is a high thing.
